CONVERSATION STARTERS

- What is culture?
- How can we show respect to ourselves and others?
- What is an opinion?
- How can I support my opinion?
- What are some ways I can make sure I am solving a problem correctly?
- What is elapsed time?
- What is close reading and why is it important?
- What are some ways heat is produced?
- What are the different types of heat?
- What goals have I met?
- What are my new goals for the week? Month?
- Why is it important to set goals?

REMINDERS

The students are responsible for making sure they provide their parents with their agenda each day. The agenda should include daily entries such as homework reminders, notes from the teacher, daily student goals, etc. These specific entries may not take place every day, but there should be regular (several times a week) entries.

Parents should have received information about our upcoming student-led conferences. They will be held on Wednesday, November 4 (1:30 – 3:30) and Thursday, November 5 (3:30 – 5:30).

Parents and students will be able to come into the room anytime during these times for the students to lead the discussion.

Appointments are not necessary, but I will be in the room to answer any pressing questions, should they arise.

If, after the conference is over, the parents would like to schedule a parent/teacher conference for another date, there will be an opportunity to do so.

Please allow about 15-20 minutes for the student-led conferences.

CLASS NEEDS

- ✓ Indoor recess items
 - Coloring books
 - Legos
 - Puzzles
 - Board games
- ✓ Paper towels
- ✓ Hand soap (we're good with hand sanitizer)
