CONVERSATION STARTERS

Which historical Americans are you studying?
What have you learned about them so far?
How can rocks be categorized (grouped)?
What are some attributes of plane figures?
What are some attributes of solid figures?
What is our 7Cs word of the month?
In what ways can you show you are working on the word of the month?
In what ways have you taken responsibility for your learning?
What else can you do to take responsibility for your learning?

All students in our class should be practicing on Tenmarks and ReadTheory a few times a week. This is in addition to their homework.

All students in our class should also be reading a chapter book on their Lexile level. The students should know their Lexile.

Thank you for helping make sure your child is attending to these tasks.

What We're Studying

- writing informational pieces
